

Paid Opportunities for Tribal Youth, Young Adults, and Leaders with Northwest Youth Corps'

Tribal Stewardship Program

About Tribal Stewards:

The Tribal Stewardship Program (TSP) aims to inspire the next generation of Tribal land stewards. For the first time ever, the TSP will be a collaboration with the Camas to Condors Partnership (C2C), along with new and continued partnerships with Tribal Governments, National Parks Service, and the Oregon Natural Desert Association. C2C is a Tribal lead conservation coalition lead by Nez Perce Tribe consisting of both tribal and non-tribal organizations who are working to lead regional-scale climate adaptation which is both culturally responsible and restorative. TSP Leaders and Members complete work projects for up to 40-hours a week with the guidance and mentorship of trained conservation professionals including a cultural educator. Emphasis is placed on holistic development, on the basis that healthy land supports healthy people.

Program Elements Include:

- Connecting with tribal homelands in Usual and Accustomed areas
- Culturally relevant educational lessons
- Natural resource education
- Supporting health and fitness through conservation work
- Engaging with natural resource professionals from both Federal and Tribal Governments
